

Badgers Class Newsletter.

What have the Badgers been up to this week?

Maths this week has been on angles in a triangle, circles and 3D nets - a real mash up! Daily arithmetic - it happens every day! This week we have worked on mixed practice, long multiplication and long division. It's been a shorter week so it seems to have flown by! In English we have carried on with our text, we have commented on what we like and wonder about the text from illustrations, we have also learned that the main character Rose has discovered a concentration camp near her German town. We have covered what the holocaust ; the Badgers have been so compassionate and respectful. They asked some very philosophical questions which led to lots of great and meaningful class discussions. Well done everyone.

Our new core concept for the Summer term is:

Celebration and Change

In DT this week the children created a bag mood board to help inspire their designs and capture their ideas.

In today's history lesson we learned more about what happened locally during WW2 with a particular focus also on child evacuees. We thought about what few things we'd pack in a suitcase, looked at real accounts, images of canterbury and images of children being evacuated.

Celebrations and What the Badgers have to say...

This week For our 'Work on the Wall' - this week we are celebrating Harvey and Fred. Harvey for his impressive Maths this week - Harvey has smashed through his daily arithmetic and during our angles of a triangle lesson he amazed myself and Mrs Handford with his work. I have also chosen Fred for a great start to Term 5 and to acknowledge this homework from last week because I could see a lot of thought had gone into it. Well done! 😊 Our Headteacher's Award - this week I want to celebrate Ava - Ava has broken two fingers! I wanted to choose her for showing such perseverance because I don't think it's been particularly easy, well done.

Our Pupil Voice: 'How many cheeses can you name Mrs Jessup?' I don't know James, let's find out, so we all did!
