

Badgers Class Newsletter

Friday 13th September 2024

What has been happening this week?

CATS Testing! On Monday all the children took part in CATS tests. These tests are different to Maths and English tests and are similar to some of the activities in the Kent Test. We usually have the results back by parents' Evening and may be useful if you are starting to consider secondary schools for your child.

In English, the children have continued to explore vocabulary linked to our class text Adventures of Odysseus

In Maths, the children have continued their learning on place value

In PSHE, the children reflected on what qualities would be important to be a successful member of school council. The children are invited to prepare a few words if they would like to stand for school council. We will vote next week!
